Deleware to Have Full Representation in Senate After Many Years.

THE STRUGGLE VERY BITTE

Suggested, However, That Gas Man May Have String Tied ounito Offer.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) DOVER, DEL., May 20.—For the first time in many years Delaware now seems fair way to have her full quota of representation in the United States Senate, and a bitter, long-drawn-out and shameful factional war appears to be at an end.

The senatorial fight in Delaware, procipitated by J. Edward Addicks, has never been duplicated in any other State of the Union, and the disgrace of it will long cause Delaware to bow her head in humiliation.

Governor Lea will issue a call on Mon. ny for a special session of the Legisla-ure for the purpose of filling the vacancy hich now exists in the Senate. This action will be taken as the result

This action will be taken as the result of a decision reached Friday night and Saturday by the followers of Addicks and Senator Allee, that they would go into caucus with the regular Republicans, and that they would abide by the decision, whatever it might be.

There can be little doubt that Colonel H. A. duPont will be the man elected. He will control fifteen men in the caucus, which, as the result of deaths since the last Legislature, will give him a majority.

Fight Twenty Years Old.

e history of the outrageous factional; in Delaware has been written time again in newspapers, magazines and books. It began nearly twenty years when Addicks, the Gas Man, descendation the Diamond State as suddenly unexpectedly as an epidemic of choland announced that he was going to Senate from Delaware.

and unexpectedly as an epidemic of cholera, and announced that he was going to the Senate from Delaware.

It was not until 1824 that he succeeded in creating a deadlock, which left one of the two seats vacant. From 1960 to 1962, there was no senator at all from Delaware, and since that time there has been one, Senator J. Frank Allee.

The whole country has looked on aghast at the temerity of a man who has dared to rob a sovereign State of its proper representation in the upper branch of Congress simply because he could not have the honor himself. It is an example of unparallelled selfishness and of long-continued political tyranny.

But now Addicks has surrendered and Allee has surrendered. The gas man, for his first time in nearly two decades, admits that despite the power of his money, he is beaten. He gives as his reason for avoring the calling of an extraordinary session of the Legishture, pressure from Washington and the fear that the State would go Democratic.

"And then," he said, "all my work would have gone for nothling."

Similar reasons are supposed to have remonted the clange of attitude of Sen-would have gone for nothing."

Similar reasons are supposed to have rompted the change of attitude of Sentor Allee and Caleb R. Layton, who have hitherto held the ground that it was nossible, impracticable and unwise to prece the Republican senators litto filling its vacancy at this time, on the very ce of a general election combat with costile and well-organized Democrats.

An Addicks Tricks.

An Addicks Trick?

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
DOVER, DEL., May 20.—Like Red
Saunders' dog, United States Senator J.
Frank Allee is "searching his soul for ounds to tell how scared he is." The anouncement made in Philadelphia Friday ight by J. Edward Addicks to the ffect that he is ready to efface himself as a senatorial aspirant, and that he has written to his political lleutenants urging hem to enter into an agreement for "special session of the Legislature to dect a United States senator, has cut he ground completely away from under tilee's feet. He is face to face with a ituation that means his speedy extincion as a political factor, and he is orced to realize that Addicks, the man who made him and the man whom he overaged.
The reason for all this is that if a betrayed, has at last found a way to be revenged.

The reason for all this is that if a special session of the Legislature is called now and Colonel H. A. duPont is elected United States senator by the aid of Addicks, some sort of bargain will have to be made looking to the election of Addicks as the successor of Alice at the regular session, beginning of January 1st 1874. Thus Addicks marnanimous declaration that he has given up his dream of the Senate has a string to it; but for all that the willy old gas tran has worked a trick that is pretty certain to put Allee out of business.

Were, They Blind?

In view of what has been developed before the Interstate Commerce Commission in a few short days' investigation of the Pennsylvania Railroad, it would seem to be inconceivable that President Cassatt and John B. Thayer, fourth vice-president, could have been misled into believing crooked things were straight.

Payors to the Keystone Coaliand Code Company, generally known as the Cassatt concern, and to the Berwind-White Coal Mining Company have been shown by the teatimony. In return for these favors the railroad company appears to have been elied, in no way but Pennsylvania Railroad officers and clerks, whose lositions gave them valuable influence, have been enriched.

Witness after witness has testified to facts which show up the Keystone Coal and Coke Company as the present leader in the system of stock gifts to railroad officers. Three officers of, the Keystone Kelso Cassatt, a son of President Cassatt, and enstern manager of the company, has hardly known less about what has been done.

DAYTON, OHIC, May 20.—Definite steps to bring about union of the Baptists and Free Baptists were taken by the American-Baptist Home Mission Society, in session here to-day. The commission appointed light year to consider a plan for go-operation and possible union reported that, after conforences, a joint committee of Baptists and Free Baptists unanimously agreed that, since the two denominations are corely related, and the original cause of separation has disappeared, the committee should recommend a free interchange of members and ministers and the extension of a cordial invitation to the Free Baptists to co-operate in evangelistic, educational work, in the hope that a complete organic union of those bodies might be consummated in due time. This recommendation was unanimously adopted by the Home Mission Society, which declared its readiness to co-operate in its work with the Free Baptists where it can legally be done. The reports show the greatest year in its history, with receipts of over $800,000 and 1,542 missionaries compleyed.
